

Instructions for completing family group sheet (2010)

Aloha kākou,

Mahalo for sharing your family information with us. We will be using the Church of Latter-Day Saints family group record (2010) to gather our family genealogy. This form will allow you to enter up to six children. If the family has more than six children, please use the “additional children” form for the rest of the family.

You will notice that the form includes alot of different information. Please complete as much as you can. If you will be helping others in your family to complete their forms, you will need to make a copy of the form to do theirs. You can use the “additional children” form if the ‘ohana has more than six children. If you do not have information for the LDS ordinances, or if you are not members, just leave that section blank.

If you have another form that you would prefer to use, feel free to do so.
